Safeguard Business Systems and Business Forms, Inc. Join Forces as BFI Safeguard

The two companies, each with strong reputations for quality personal service, expand their cost effective approach to community business support and advocacy.

Spokane, WA – May 17, 2011 - Safeguard Business Systems of Spokane, WA, and Business Forms, Inc. (BFI), both long time successful Spokane businesses have merged to create and facilitate a local small business solution. Both companies have served business customers in Eastern Washington and Northern Idaho for over 30 years.

Newly formed BFI Safeguard has the experience and resources to offer services that reduce business costs, increase efficiencies, strengthen company brands and facilitate business growth. A full team of experienced web developers have been put in place to build ecommerce websites and company stores designed to automate and simplify the client's ordering process. BFI Safeguard takes pride in providing solutions in addition to quality products. Their goal is to preserve core business relationships and maintain their solid reputation in the community by following the corporate slogan "Your Growth is our Business!"

"The key reason we will continue working with BFI Safeguard is because of their willingness to understand our business, what we need, and respond effectively when we need it," explains Jim Branson, SVP/Director of Retail Banking, Washington Trust Bank.

Rick & Diana Wilhite, long time Spokane Valley residents, purchased the Safeguard Business Systems-Spokane distributorship in 1981 with fewer than 100 customers. "We are proud of the fact that many of those same customers are still with us today along with the hundreds of other customers we've developed over the years," said Diana Wilhite.

Business Forms Inc., which was founded by Denny Hubbell in 1987 has also developed many long standing relationships with businesses in the Spokane area. Hubbell, together with BFI's General Manager, Peter Michael, have experienced much success as they built a business focused on the individual needs of each and every customer.
